

ATTENTION! WHEN BAND PLAYS "STAR SPANGLED BANNER"

Officers and enlisted men of the army are instructed to stand at attention without saluting when "The Star-Spangled Banner" is played in a theater. They shall stand at attention and salute if the anthem is played in public places, where they are wearing uniform and hat or cap.

Adjutant General McCalm today called attention to revised regulations of the War Department with reference to the form of respect to be shown the national anthem after his attention had been called to instances where there had been misunderstanding on the part of reservists and rookie soldiers. The army regulations as amended provide:

Stand at Attention.
"Whenever the national anthem is played at any place when persons belonging to the military service are present, all officers and enlisted men not in formation shall stand at attention facing toward the music (except at retreat, when they shall face to the rear). If not in uniform and covered, they shall uncover at the first note of the anthem, retaining the position of salute until the last note of the anthem. If no uniform and covered, they shall uncover at the first note of the anthem, holding the headpiece opposite the left shoulder and so remain until its close, except that in inclement weather the headpiece may be held slightly raised."

No Repetition.
"When played by an army band, the national anthem shall be played through without repetition of any part not required to be repeated to make it complete."
"The same marks of respect prescribed for observance during the playing of the national anthem of the United States shall be shown toward the national anthem of any other country when played upon official occasions."

START WAR ON RATS TO CONSERVE GRAIN

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18.—More rats are being killed in the barns and granaries of Pennsylvania this fall than ever before, because of the desire of the farmers and grain growers to save all the wheat, corn, and other cereals possible while it is in their hands. Some weeks ago men connected with the Department of Agriculture began to notice an increase in the inquiries being made by farmers as to the best means of getting rid of rats in barns, many of the letters indicating that dogs and cats and time-honored traps were too slow in the present emergency. Numerous studies of ways have been made in the State laboratories, and it is hoped by the suggestions given to save thousands of dollars' worth of foodstuffs which are annually destroyed or ruined by rats and mice.

A series of experiments is about being completed by national and State agricultural experts to determine new methods to exterminate the moth and other pests that infest wheat while in the fields and in the barns. Some of these have been tried on farms near Harrisburg and Philadelphia, and all over the State late sowing has been adopted to minimize danger from wheat flies.

PERU AND CHILE AGAIN DIPLOMATIC FRIENDS

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 18.—After being at odds for seven years, diplomatic relations between Peru and Chile have been re-established simultaneously at Lima and Santiago. The differences between the two nations had their beginning in 1878 after the defeat of Peru by Chile in the war over the possession of the provinces of Tacna and Arica. These provinces were ceded provisionally to Chile with the understanding that after a period of ten years, a plebiscite would be held to determine whether they should revert to Peru. Since the plebiscite was never held, diplomatic relations were never resumed.

HAS RADIO-DETECTOR TO REVEAL SUBMARINES

DENVER, Oct. 18.—Lieut. William R. Russell, former chief of the wireless division of the Seventh New York Infantry, now in the reserve, has perfected what he believes is the solution of the submarine problem. The device consists of a small mica tube containing a radio-active substance which projects electrical radiations and by reflected rays reveals a submarine. Lieutenant Russell has submitted his invention to Washington authorities for a test.

FINDS BRITAIN FIRM IN DEMAND ON DUTCH

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The editor of the Amsterdam, Telegraaf is telegraphing to the Telegraph saying that the British, French, and Belgian governments are determined that gravel and sand exports from Holland to Belgium must cease. He points out to the Dutch public how patient the British have been in only cutting off commercial communication with Holland as reprisal, compared with Germany's treatment of Dutch shipping at exemplified by ruthless submarine war.

MAY RECOUNT IOWA VOTES.
DES MOINES, Oct. 18.—Complete unofficial returns from Monday's vote on an amendment to the Iowa constitution providing State-wide prohibition today showed the "wet" leading by only 387 votes and it seemed obvious that an official recount would be necessary. The complete unofficial returns gave the vote as 214,634 against 213,747 for the amendment.
